

reflects that, as of March 15, 2019, his six-month average balance was $11.57 and the average amount deposited monthly into his account over the prior six months was $76.01 – thus, more than $456 was deposited into his trust account over a six-month period. See Dkt. No. 4 at 3.

28 U.S.C. § 1915(a) sets forth the standards governing IFP motions. A district court may authorize the commencement of a civil action without the prepayment of fees or costs “by a person who submits an affidavit ... that [he or she] is unable to pay such fees or give security therefor.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(1). The Court must examine the financial condition of the applicant in order to determine whether the payment of fees would “cause [an] undue financial hardship.” Prows v. Kastner, 842 F.2d 138, 140 (5th Cir. 1988). And the amount of money available to inmates in their prison trust account or from other sources should be considered. See id.; Simon v. Quarterman, No. 3:07-cv-1793-D, 2007 WL 4167943, at *1 (N.D. Tex. Nov. 20, 2007).

As the filing fee for a habeas case is just $5.00, even though Baze is incarcerated, the financial information reflected in the CTA shows that he can afford to pay that filing fee without incurring undue financial hardship. Cf. N.D. TEX. MISC. ORDER NO. 6, Rule 2a(4)(a)(ii) (May 5, 2005) (this Court routinely grants leave to proceed IFP if “the average six month balance of [an] inmate[s] trust account and other financial resources are less than Fifty Dollars”).

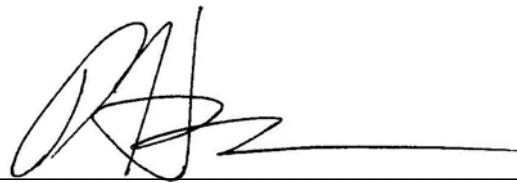

Recommendation

The Court should deny Petitioner Kenneth Baze leave to proceed in forma pauperis and order that he pay the $5.00 filing fee within 21 days of any order accepting this recommendation (or within some other reasonable time to be set by the Court), and, if he fails to do so, the Court should dismiss this action without prejudice under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) without further notice.

A copy of these findings, conclusions, and recommendation shall be served on all parties in the manner provided by law. Any party who objects to any part of these findings, conclusions, and recommendation must file specific written objections within 14 days after being served with a copy. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); FED. R. CIV. P. 72(b). In order to be specific, an objection must identify the specific finding or recommendation to which objection is made, state the basis for the objection, and specify the place in the magistrate judge's findings, conclusions, and recommendation where the disputed determination is found. An objection that merely incorporates by reference or refers to the briefing before the magistrate judge is not specific. Failure to file specific written objections will bar the aggrieved party from appealing the factual findings and legal conclusions of the magistrate judge that are accepted or adopted by the district court, except upon grounds of plain error. See Douglass v. United Servs. Auto. Ass'n, 79 F.3d 1415, 1417 (5th Cir. 1996).
